“ This song made me cry and think of you, Di. I know you're resting easy but it hurts to say goodbye.Until we meet again ...If I had only known the last time would be the last time,I would've put off all the things I had to do.I would've stayed a little longer, held on a little tighter,Now what I'd give for one more day with you.'Cause there's a wound here in my heart where something's missing.And they tell me that it's gonna heal with time.But I know you're in a place where all your wounds have been erased,And knowing yours are healed is healing mine.I know the road you walked was anything but easy;You picked up your share of scars along the way.Oh, but now you're standing in the sun; you've fought your fight, your race is run;The pain is all a million miles away.The only scars in heaven won't belong to me and you.There'll be no such thing as broken, and all the old will be made new.And the thought that comforts me now, even as the tears fall down,Is that the only scars in heaven are on the hands that hold you now.--Casting Crowns

“ I am saddened to read of Diane's untimely passing. She had an easy, and infectious, laughter and it was easy to talk with her. She was generous in uplifting others while facing her own challenges. To those who will miss her most, I offer my heartfelt sympathy and condolences. This side has lost a good one.
